Vote For New Schools Tuesday!

Your home, your family, your neighborhood and your community will be affected directly or indirectly by the outcome of Tuesday's vote on the proposed bond issue in the East Liverpool School District.

All will benefit in some form—improved residential areas, better educated young people and an over-all community advancement—if the vote is favorable.

Approval of the bond issue will mean another giant step along the path of progress.

New highways, either already built or about to be built; extensive planning and development programs; improved street lighting, and a generally revitalized business district all fit in well with the progressive trend.

BUT SCHOOL BUILDINGS that are as much as 70 years old do not! We need the new buildings which the bond issue will provide to assure a well-rounded educational system and to keep pace with those who have been busy erecting modern school plants.

We need the new buildings to make it quite clear to the valuable industries we already have and to those who may be eyeing East Liverpool for new industrial sites that we are moving ahead!

The building program being asked will be costly—more than $4 million. Unfortunately, the cost of progress generally runs high. And the people themselves must bear the burden in most cases.

A careful look at the matter, however, points up the long-range benefits to be derived from an investment such as that in a modern school program and demonstrates clearly that now is the time to act—not later.

Conscientiously weigh the following factors:

- 1.—Too many of the present buildings are in a dilapidated state, with repairs mounting yearly in cost to the point where they fast are becoming prohibitive.
- 2.—Our children are entitled to the best possible facilities so they may compete on an equal basis education-wise with youngsters from other school districts.
- 3.—If the building program is not launched now, rising construction costs will make the financial burden even greater as time goes by.
- 4.—A state grant of approximately $1 million is included in the present program.

Let's examine these points more closely.

1.—Not only are the schools dilapidated to the point of a community disgrace, but they are possible fire traps as well in some cases. We only can thank our good fortune that somewhere over the years we haven't been the victims of a stunning tragedy. And while we pray to God it doesn't happen, there's always the possibility—some buildings being what they are—that tragedy will strike today, tomorrow or the next day.

2.—The sometimes heard argument that "The present schools were good enough for us, so they're good enough for the kids today" is no more logical than to say "If the log cabin was good enough for Abe Lincoln, it's good enough for me and my family." Whether we like to face it or not, surveys disclose that too many of our boys and girls are not holding their own academically in testing competition with students from other schools. They need the more modern facilities necessary to place them on an equal footing.

3.—No one should be more aware of the cost of delay in construction than the people of East Liverpool. Two examples tell the story forcefully. The original estimate had the municipal sewage plant in the West End costing $600,000 in 1946. When fully approved and erected later, the cost was $2 million.

Two years ago, the St. Clair Ave. improvement was estimated at $400,000. Today, with work under way, the cost of the project has soared to $848,000!

We would be foolish to go through the same costly delay with our schools.

4.—With some 43 other school districts waiting in line to receive the $1 million in state aid offered under the program here, it is extremely doubtful if the money would be available later. We can't afford to lose it.

IT ALL ADDS UP to a logical and sensible reason for a favorable vote Tuesday for the school bond issue. Further delay only will mean additional expense in the future when the work eventually has to be done. And it will have to be done!

Here's what the proposed program will provide: A 48-room senior high school building; two 25-room elementary buildings, and a 23-room elementary building.

The Review wholeheartedly joins with the many other progressive organizations and individuals who have endorsed the bond issue and urges its overwhelming approval at the polls on Tuesday.

A majority affirmative vote is necessary for passage.

VOTE BALLOT WITH AN "X"

Shall bonds be issued by the Board of Education of the East Liverpool City School District for the purpose of constructing a high school and elementary school buildings, furnishing and equipping school buildings, and acquiring, landscaping and otherwise improving school sites in the sum of $3,380,000 and a levy of taxes to be made outside of the ten-mill limitation estimated by the County Auditor to average 4.15 mills for each one dollar of valuation, which amounts to $0.415 cents for each one hundred dollars of valuation, for a maximum period of twenty-three years to pay the principal and interest of such bonds.

Midland Man Hurt, Cyclist Also Injured

City Mishap Victim Will Face Court On Reckless Operation

A 24-year-old Midland motorist was in "fair" condition today at City Hospital with a badly lacerated face when he lost control of his foreign sports car on Pennsylvania Ave. "Bill Rd." early this morning, shoving one parked car 30 feet through a hedge and into another, police said.

Robert Harvey, 440 Midland Ave., was charged with reckless driving after the mishap about 2 a. m. 500 feet west of State St.

Harvey was descending the grade into East End when the car appeared to spin out of control, Donald R. McIntosh, 18, of Wellsville R. D. told police. McIntosh said he was headed west and Harvey's auto barely brushed his car, causing minor damage to the left side.

Police said they were unable

Grand Jurors Take Recess For Weekend

LISBON — The Columbiana County Grand Jury recessed Friday afternoon for the weekend and will return Monday morning to hear testimony in an assault case then is expected to report to Judge Raymond S. Buzzard.

Prosecutor G. William Brokaw said the panel's report will concern about 29 cases in which over 30 witnesses were heard. The 15-member panel was seated Wednesday by Judge Buzzard to start the September term of Common Pleas Court.

Election's Tuesday

6,000 May Vote On School Bonds

The fate of a $4.3 million building program for construction of a new senior high school and three consolidated elementary buildings will be determined when East Liverpool School District residents vote at a special election Tuesday on a combined bond issue and tax levy. The estimated vote is 6,000.

Only a majority vote is required for passage of the $3,380,000 bond issue and a half-mill levy to repay the $990,958 interest-free state loan, which are combined on a single ballot. Both propositions would be in effect for 23 years.

A LEVY OF 4.15 mills would be required to retire the bonds and the total levy, including the half-mill for repayment of the loan, would amount to 4.65 mills or $4.65 for each $1,000 of property valuation on the tax duplicate.

The polls will be open from 7:30 a. m. to 7:30 p. m. in the 43 polling places in the district, which includes 34 precincts in the city, all six in Liverpool Township and Glenwood and Southwest and West Precincts of St. Clair Township.

Because of the interest created by the building program, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the County Election Board, estimated the turnout at 6,000.

East Liverpool has approximately 8,400 qualified electors. Registration is not required in the townships.

IF THE predicted 6,000 ballots are cast, that would be about 1,200 fewer than went to the polls when the district voted on school board members last November.

A total of 7,207 votes were cast in the school board election with 6,147 in the city, 710

IBOP Urges Support For School Bonds

The International Brotherhood of Operative Potters has urged East Liverpool school district residents to support the school bond issue at the special election Tuesday.

An article in the Potters Herald, official organ of the IBOP, said the international union "strongly advocates that citizens endorse the new school bond issue. Erecting and supporting public school expansion has been one of the top endorsements of the AFL-CIO and its affiliates for many years."

"Some critics of the bond issue are claiming the communities which have a high average of citizens are not concerned about the coming generations of school age. We disagree with this theory and the National Senior Citizens have endorsed the school issues."

"The passing of this bond issue will not only protect the future and present school-age children, it also will add to the job opportunities in the construction of these new schools."

West Elated By Defection Of Red Expert

Nuclear Scientist Flees To U.S., Said In Washington Area

GENEVA (AP) — The defection to the United States of nuclear scientist Heinz Barwich — long a holder of key positions in the Soviet Union and East Germany — caused elation today among Western officials. Soviet sources expressed shock.

The 53-year-old East German is considered a major prize for the West, which lost two top nuclear experts — Klaus Fuchs and Bruno Pontecorvo — to communism.

Barwich's defection was announced Friday by officials in Washington. He made his getaway last Wednesday, while in Geneva for the 71-nation conference on the peaceful uses of atomic energy.

The scientist slipped out of a Geneva hotel when the conference ended. He was accompanied by another East German scientist, Prof. Max Steenbeck, whose whereabouts has not been revealed.

Barwich's chief in East Germany, Prof. Baon Manfred von Ardenne, reacted to the news by charging that Barwich went West for family reasons.

Von Ardenne, reached in East Germany by telephone, said the defection was "extremely deplorable" and "I am sure that family reasons played a very strong role in this decision."

He said he believes Barwich's wife is still in East Germany. Washington officials declined to reveal details about Barwich's family, or his present whereabouts. But sources said he is in the Washington area.

New Coup Perils Viet, Report Says

Government Troop And Armored Cars On Saigon Streets

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Government troops and armored cars were on the streets of Saigon in unusual numbers today amid rumors that a new political upheaval may erupt this weekend.

Widely circulated reports said the U.S.-backed government of Premier Nguyen Khanh may be threatened by a coup.

Such rumors flourish freely in Saigon, often without substance.

U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor, returning from consultations in Washington, may run into a new crisis. He had left Saigon after three weeks of violent antigovernment demonstrations plunged the nation into chaos, nearly toppling Khanh's regime. Buddhist leaders and students led protests demanding democratic reform and an end to military rule.

The nation is still under military authority, a triumvirate of generals headed by Khanh, who has promised a return to civilian rule in two months. But a power struggle between Buddhist and anti-Buddhist elements is shaping up, posing the threat of new violence.

Most of the coup rumors concern what is presumably Catholic opposition to concessions made by Khanh to Buddhist and student critics. Khanh fired another officer Friday who was opposed by Buddhist leaders.

The government, meanwhile, formally charged neighboring Cambodia with openly supporting the Communist Viet Cong by fighting South Vietnamese border troops.

Water Cutoff Will Be Made For Repairs

Water service for residents on both sides of St. Clair Ave. north of Mayberry Ln. and Hill Blvd. will be turned off early next week while crews replace two sections of 10-inch main.

Donald T. Duke, water works superintendent, said the work probably will require about two hours, but that a definite announcement will be made later on the time.

Two sections of 10-inch pipe were removed Thursday afternoon after equipment of Hermann Brothers of Youngstown, general contractor, broke one joint while preparing to install a 54-inch storm sewer beneath the water line, Duke said.

Water was turned off for about five hours Thursday after the one section was broken to allow crews to remove both and isolate the 10-inch main.

Service is now provided on other lines which bypass the larger main, Duke explained.

The 54-inch storm sewer crosses St. Clair Ave. from southwest to northeast. A ditch about 20 feet deep and 15 feet wide at the top has been dug to permit the contractor to lay the large sewer pipe underneath the water line.

A 6-inch water line, one of those serving the area, has been anchored to a beam to prevent it from falling and breaking.

A GRAVE MATTER. Enthusiasm for tonight's football game between East Liverpool and Beaver Local, two neighborhood rivals, moved a sidewalk artist to write out a message of doom for the Potters around a crude grave fashioned on the parking lot of Memorial Auditorium Friday night. The cross lists the names of "Woods" and "Malt", obviously a reference to Bob Woods and Bob Maltarich of the ELHS backfield. Names of the other Potter starters were written on the blacktop under the heading of "Death Call Saturday Night" in white chalk. The teams open the season at Patterson Field.

More Violence May Hit Cyprus

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — The threat of more violence over Cyprus loomed today after the Greek Cypriot government is-

British Jets Strike At Indonesian Troops

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — Britain unleashed its Hunter jet fighters against Indonesian paratroopers south of the capital today and warned that it reserved the right to strike back at Indonesia if attacks on Malaysia continue. It was the second day of British air strikes.

Defense Minister Polycarpus Georgiadis also warned that conveyed shipments would be opposed as "a kind of invasion" unless Turkey obtains permission from Cyprus and pays import duties.

President Makarios warned Turkey Friday against proceeding with her plan to furnish an air and naval convoy for shipments of food and supplies to the village of Kokkina on the island's northern coast.

Turkey had announced she intends to end the blockade of Turkish Cypriots in Kokkina with the shipments and warned against interference.

"The consequences will be very grave," Makarios said. "We shall not permit any arbitrary action and we are determined to react with every means at our disposal to any arbitrary action."

Miss America Of 1965 Will Be Crowned Tonight

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — A new Miss America takes her throne tonight to climax a week of excitement and competition for 50 of the nation's most beautiful girls.

Suspense mounted for the contestants in the nation's oldest beauty pageant as they waited hopefully for the judges' decision that will catapult 10 of them into the finals.

The decision is announced at the start of tonight's final round on the basis of points amassed by the girls the past three days and nights in swim suits, evening gown, talent and personality competition.

The finalists will compete again in swim suits, evening gown and talent events before the field is narrowed to five for the selection of Miss America, 1965.

The new queen will succeed Donna Axum of El Dorado, Ark.

Awaiting the new Miss America are a $10,000 college scholarship, an opportunity to travel 250,000 miles and an estimated $80,000 in personal appearance contracts.

The judges continued their preference toward taller-than-average girls in swim suits Friday night as they chose Jane Nelson, 19, of Tularosa, N.M., winner of the final swim suit round.

Miss Nelson, a green-eyed brunette sophomore at Arizona State University, stands 5-foot-8 and molds her 125 pounds into a 37-23-37 figure.

Florida, Georgia Start Big Cleanup, Repair After 'Dora'

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Bermuda felt hurricane Ethel's outer gales today and braced for 95-mile an hour winds which the U.S. Weather Bureau said would pummel the mid-Atlantic resort island by noon.

Forecasters at Miami advised precautions against "dangerous winds, very heavy surf and heavy rains" at the British crown colony 1,000 miles east of Charleston, S.C.

Ethel at 8 a. m. (EST) was centered near latitude 31.2 north, longitude 67.1 west or 165 miles southwest of Bermuda and moving north-northeast at eight m.p.h. Gale-force winds lashed the sea and the island for 200 miles ahead of Ethel's center, which was expected to pass west of Bermuda.

Meanwhile, thousands of people in Georgia and Florida began a massive cleanup and repair job in the wake of Hurricane Dora, Ethel's destructive sister.

The residents had President Johnson's promise of federal support. He picked his way through muck, debris and shattered buildings in Jacksonville, Fla., and Brunswick, Ga., during a dramatic personal inspection tour Friday. "We are going to bring the resources of the federal government together to meet this crisis," he said.

The cause of the crisis, Dora, second hurricane to strike Florida within two weeks, was drowning herself in Georgia.

Dora's winds were little more than squalls, but the tons of rain she dropped flooded homes and highways and sent hundreds of snakes wriggling from river bottoms into the trees.

2 County Men Held To Court

Hearing Waived By Bank Holdup Pair

Two Columbiana County men waived hearing in Pittsburgh Friday for the Federal Grand Jury in connection with Wednesday's $4,681 holdup of a Beaver County branch bank.

Robert Melczak, 27, of New Waterford R.D. 1, and Robert McMillan, 36, of Rogers R.D. 1, pleaded not guilty when arraigned before U.S. Commissioner Alex McNaughton on a charge of armed bank robbery. They were committed to the Allegheny County Jail at Pittsburgh when unable to raise $10,000 bond each.

Ellwood City police captured the pair in an auto in a road-block shortly after the robbery at the Koppel Branch of the Union National Bank of Pittsburgh. Police said the loot was found under a seat in the car.

A shotgun used in the holdup was found on a highway not far from the bank, police said.

in Liverpool Township and 350 in St. Clair Township, O'Hanlon said.

Funds from the bond issue and the loan from the State Department of Education would be used for construction of a 48-room high school, and two 25-room and one 23-room elementary school. The estimated cost of the program is $4,370,958.

The school board has taken options on the 33-acre Hilbert property on Maine Blvd. and the property of Sullivan and Charles Bosco off Anderson Blvd. as possible high school sites.

The definite site for the high school will be revealed Monday, the board said.

NO SITES have been specified for the elementary schools other than that they will be constructed in the East End, North Side and Pleasant Heights - LaCroft - Glenmoor areas.

A new high school would replace the present high school, Central School and Memorial Auditorium. The elementary buildings apparently would replace Garfield, Horace Mann, Neville and Klondyke in the East End, Lincoln, McKinley and Taft on the North Side and Pleasant Heights and Glenmoor in the northwest sector.

An intensive campaign has been waged by the Citizens Committee for Better Schools, which has stressed the need to replace outmoded buildings, the savings in maintenance and repair costs on the older schools, and the need to take advantage of the state loan.

to question the injured motorist but said physical evidence showed Harvey's car skidded out of control for 150 feet before striking the parked car of Lee S. Argabrite, 259 W. 7th St.

The impact drove the Argabrite car 30 feet through a hedge at the home of Ernest Hood, 836 Pennsylvania Ave., and into the property owner's 1960 sedan.

Harvey's 1963 auto was demolished and there was heavy damage to the front and rear ends of the Argabrite car and to the left side of Hood's auto.

The victim was taken to the hospital by Donald Adkins, 447 Virginia Ave., police said.

In other district mishaps, a Lisbon area youth suffered severe head injuries when a motorcycle on which he was a passenger was struck by an auto on Route 45 just over three miles north of Lisbon Friday night at 9:40.

The State Highway Patrol at Lisbon said the crash involved a car driven by Glenn Raymond Helman, 22, of 133 E. High St., Lisbon, and the motorcycle driven by Robert Lee Jones, 16, of Leontia R.D. 1.

Jerry Sadler, 15, of Lisbon R.D. 4 was riding on the "buddy seat" behind Jones. He was in "fair" condition today at Salem City Hospital with a cerebral concussion, massive contusions of the scalp, separation of the scalp from the skull and abrasions of the hand and wrist.

Officers said both were headed north when Jones started to make a left turn. At the same time, Helman started to pass the motorcycle, colliding with the vehicle. Helman was cited for improper passing.

No one was injured in a two-car crash at 3:40 a. m. today on Old Route 30 almost a mile north of East Liverpool.

Officers said Louise Ellen McDole, 46, of Lisbon St., backed from a private parking lot into the side of a car driven by Jennie Deloris Kuevert, 40, of R. D. 3. The McDole woman was cited for improper backing.

Four were hurt in a two-car crash Friday at 4:50 p. m. on Route 62 almost three miles east of Alliance.

The drivers were Anil C. Desai, 24, of Willoughby and Alexander Lazaru, 72, of Salem. The drivers were injured, along with Mrs. Anna Lazaru, 68, a passenger in her husband's car, and Dinesh M. Shah, 24, of Youngstown, a passenger in the Desai car. Lazaru was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way.

A tractor-trailer truck ripped out a large section of guardrail on Route 14 Alternate just over a mile east of Salem at 2 a. m. today. Oscar Brady Hutchison, 32, of Windber, Pa., lost control of the vehicle when the load shifted as he rounded a curve, officers said. He was cited for driving with an insecure load.

Two area men have been bound over to the Hancock County Grand Jury on charges of attempted breaking and entering of Keaton's Tavern in Chester Friday.

Frank Schmidt, 36, who gave authorities a Pleasant Heights address, and Robert Allison Higgins, 33, apparently of Midland, pleaded innocent to attempted breaking and entering charges at hearings Friday night before Chester Squire Eugene Allison.

Patrolman Clifford Bebout and Deputy Rex Cowey of the Hancock County sheriff's office arrested the pair yesterday morning about 2.

Indications are the officers nabbed the defendants on Carolina Ave., after surprising them in the alleged entering attempt at the tavern, 502 Carolina Ave.

Patrolman Bebout apparently nabbed Higgins in front of the tavern, and Schmidt was apprehended later fleeing and failing to halt when the officer fired a warning shot.

He was taken into custody at a car parked on Carolina Ave., where officers had waited in surveillance.

Chester Police Chief Harold Davis also cited Schmidt on a charge of having improper registration on the car.

Squire Allison set bond for each defendant at $1,500.

The Grand Jury may consider the cases when it convenes Tuesday morning at the Court-house in New Cumberland.

Prosecutor Floyd R. Tarr said he plans to seek indictments against only three other defendants.

They are Jerry Jeter, accused of felonious assault, Burl Spencer, grand larceny, and Andrew E. Hargis, forgery. All are Weirton residents.

Heart Attack Ruled In Death Of Autoist

Dr. Roy C. Costello, deputy county coroner, said today a heart attack caused the death of Daniel W. McKeel, a 40-year-old Westgate School instructor whose auto plunged into Shaw's Jewelry after striking two autos and knocking down a mail box Thursday night at E. 5th and Market Sts.

Mr. McKeel had a history of heart disease and had suffered an attack last summer, Dr. Costello said. He conferred yesterday with Mr. McKeel's widow.

A fourth car also was damaged when struck by one of the autos hit by Mr. McKeel's convertible as it roared through the intersection. Damage to the jewelry store has been estimated at "several thousand dollars" by Jack Shaw, owner.

Beaver Will End Signup Of Voters

James B. Keifer, chief registrar, reminded Beaver County residents that Monday is the deadline for registering to vote in the Nov. 3 election.

Keifer said the registrar's office at the Courthouse at Beaver will be open from 8:30 a. m. to 9 p. m., with some 800 to 1,000 expected to sign up on the final day.

A field registration drive which began Aug. 17 in various communities throughout the county netted 5,900 new registrations, he said.

There were 4,380 new Democrats registered, 1,402 Republicans and 118 others. Changes of address were made by 910.

Work Begins On New Span

Work has started on the new State Route 213 Hammondville Bridge, according to an announcement made by the contractor during a pre-construction conference at New Philadelphia.

Earl H. Newell of Columbiana told State Highway Department officials that work on the temporary bridge that will carry traffic during construction of the new structure has been started and will be completed within a few days. Newell said he hopes to have the bridge built by December.

Present at the meeting, in addition to Newell and State Highway Department personnel, Richard Newell, who will be superintendent for the contractor, and representatives of the Ohio Valley Gas Co. and the Bell Telephone Co.

Contract price for the project, which is one-tenth of a mile long, is $100,409. A completion date has been set for Sept. 30, 1965.

Work has been completed on three highway improvement projects in the Ohio Highway Department's Division 11, including two in Columbiana County.

A new three-span bridge over Little Bull Creek at the north end of Rogers on State Route 7 was finished by the Newell firm. The contractor started work May 5 on the $42,285 contract.

The project, which is one-tenth mile long and provides 24 feet wide approach pavement, was financed from state funds. Total estimated cost, in right of way, was $47,900.

A. J. Nardi of Dennison completed a $22,731 contract to install drainage facilities along State Route 154 in Negley. Work was started June 15, on the two-tenths of a mile project.

Total estimated cost, including engineering and right-of-way, was $25,500, and was financed by 100 per cent state funds. The work was done to correct a drainage condition along the state highway.

Cool, Man; Real Cool! 42 To 47 Due Tonight

"Keep it cool, man," urged the Ohio weatherman today as he forecast a chilly low range of 42 to 47 degrees tonight in an unseasonable contrast to the mid-week heat wave.

The downtown had 53 at 6 a. m. and it fell a degree in an hour, with indications the day's high may not exceed 65 for the coolest daytime temperature this season.

The cool spell will continue through Sunday with generally fair skies. It's a foretaste of autumn, which is due officially Sept. 22.

Ohio Man Is Charged

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP)—William Fumich, 45, of Lyndhurst has been charged with traffic manslaughter stemming from a fatal crash on Interstate 71 and a free on $1,000 bond.

Lisbon Area Man Held In Assault Complaint

LISBON — Howard Adams, 44, of Lisbon R.D. 4 was bound over to the Grand Jury Friday afternoon on warrant signed by Eugene Hicks charging assault with a deadly weapon.

Adams allegedly attacked Hicks with a butcher knife in an argument and Prosecutor G. William Brokaw said he would try to present the case before the September Grand Jury Monday morning.

He remained in the County Jail in lieu of $1,000 bond.

Insects AND YOUR HEALTH

WASPS

There are more than 2,500 species of wasps on this continent. Of this number, only about 50 are troublesome to man. Nests are usually found in or around homes—beneath eaves, on porches, behind blinds, in trees and shrubbery, in rock fences and in the ground. If someone disturbs a nest, he may get stung severely.

WASP CONTROL

Wasps can be controlled by applying an insecticidal spray or dust to their nests. It is important, however, to remember that most insecticides are toxic. Keep them away from children. When applying them, do not contaminate food, dishes, or kitchen utensils. Do not store them with food . . . do not breathe the spray mist or dust. If the insecticide is spilled on the skin, wash it off immediately. If you spill insecticide on your clothes, change them promptly.

TREATING STINGS

If the victim has a history of hay fever or asthma or other allergy, his physician should be notified as soon as the sting is received. Reactions can be severe or even fatal.

GET INFORMATION

If wasps are a problem around your home, before buying a nifty home remedy, call us and let us advise you. We'll be happy to tell you the correct thing to do. If the problem is a simple one, perhaps you can handle it yourself. In any event, a consultation with one of our pest control operators costs you nothing. As a matter of fact, we'll be happy to inspect your home for wasps, rats, roaches or any other insects that may present a problem to the health and welfare of your family. I invite you to call FISHER PEST CONTROL at AM 4-4331 or AM 4-5331. We are located at 4427 Sunset Boulevard, Steubenville. We'll be happy to talk with you.

New Auto Industry Pattern

It is too soon to reach hard-and-fast conclusions about the new contracts in the auto industry. Two of the Big Three remain to be signed, and other manufacturers, including the far-flung auto parts industry, must work out terms to fit their varying specifications.
It is clear that a momentous new pattern has evolved in auto bargaining. How far it will carry the industry is unknown. But it cannot be doubted that it is carrying it in a direction undreamed of until recently.
The direction could be called "productivity sharing."

THANKS TO automation and a succession of good years, the auto industry as a whole has been reaping a bountiful harvest of high profits. The UAW, eyeing the profits, had given advance warning it would bargain for a higher share than ever before.

What UAW bargainers got out of Chrysler was unprecedented in magnitude. The bargainers expect to do comparably well all up and down the line.
This apparently is going to be done with no inflationary impact. Auto prices will not go up, as steel prices have gone up in the wake of more generous labor contracts. Neither will they come down, which would have been the expected reaction from improved productivity in another era.
They will remain stabilized. Economists believe this has been the strongest reason for the auto industry's continued high level of sales. Buyers are neither rushing in nor holding back. Prices have tended to stay the same.
Meanwhile, the product itself has been improving in design and performance, becoming more attractive and thereby stimulating sales.

THIS HAS BEEN the fruit of automation, which has gone further and paid off better in the auto industry than in any other division of the semi-durable goods industries.

A pattern apparently is being set in the auto industry.
The pattern calls for labor to lay claim to a generous share of the earnings made possible by the progressive adoption of automation in the auto industry.
It calls for stockholders, management and the government to accept the proposition that generous industrial contracts are acceptable and noninflationary as long as they are made possible by significant increases in productivity.
This idea was incorporated first many years ago in United Mine Workers contracts negotiated by John L. Lewis, who agreed with coal mining management to go along with all-out mechanization of mining, provided mine labor shared in the increased profits.
The result was to make the once lowly miner the highest-paid artisan in the world, while at the same time driving out of existence mines and miners that could not meet the improved standards of efficiency.
Auto industry workers are now the privileged class of manufacturing.

Misplaced Blame

Custodians at the Central Building, high school and the other older schools in the East Liverpool system are experiencing some "backlash" over descriptions of conditions at these schools.
These buildings are encrusted with grime ground in over the years, or from faulty furnaces, or from mud tracked in during changing of classes — or from many other sources.
Most of the custodians are doing an excellent job in maintaining outmoded structures, whose facilities make the task extra difficult.
Those who would blame the custodians or the administrators for physical conditions of our school are not looking for the correct means of remedying our educational plight.
That means can be found Tuesday, on a ballot, beside the words "For the bond issue."

School Buses And Politics

Some parents of white children will support a two-day boycott of New York City schools beginning with opening day Monday. Originally a prolonged boycott had been planned by the two protesting groups, the Parents and Taxpayers Coordinating Council and the Joint Council for Better Education.
The sponsoring groups are still asking parents of pupils "involuntarily transferred" to keep their children out until "they are admitted again at neighborhood schools." Under the New York Board of Education's plan for integration, 3,100 children will be transferred out of neighborhood schools in the pairing of schools — mixing of pupils between predominantly Negro and predominantly white schools. Another 450 will be transferred because of changes in school districting.
THE NEW YORK school integration plan was worked out after two earlier boycotts this year, mostly by Negro children.

Hello, Dollies

Well, sir, it's not going to be easy to pick your doll in the 1964 campaign.
Four years ago, it was a choice between Pat Nixon and Jackie Kennedy. Of if you dug deeper into the ticket it was a choice between Lady Bird Johnson and Emily Lodge.
In 1964, it's a choice between Lady Bird Johnson and Peggy Goldwater. Or, digging deeper, between Stephanie Miller and Muriel Humphrey.
It keeps getting tougher all the time for voters of both sexes. The recent prominence of the candidates' wives has added a whole new dimension to presidential politicking.
Maybe we'd better think about this a little.

EVERY MARRIED man knows that his wife has a share in all his decisions.
Many married men confess that they try out their own decisions on their wives first, to see how they are going to be received elsewhere.
Some married men have to admit they are incapable of making decisions on their own. Their wives even decide what necktie is going to be worn and when the weak stick they married should have an appointment with the dentist.
We used to elect chief executives and backup men and learn about their wives later. Today we elect a man and his wife to live in the White House.
That was one of Adlai Stevenson's handicaps — no wife. Dwight Eisenhower had Mamie, just as Harry Truman had Bess and Franklin Roosevelt had Eleanor.
And can anyone question seriously at this point that Jackie Kennedy wasn't an integral part of the public image that her young husband presented to his countrymen?
Or that Lady Bird Johnson is as much a part of the Johnson administration and her presidential husband's presidential tenure as any two or three of the men who surround him?

QUIETLY but skillfully the powers that

The board of education's program has court approval, but appeals have been entered. The board president, James B. Donovan, on Sept. 8 called the boycott by the white majority "just as reprehensible" as the earlier Negro boycotts.
Inevitably, the dispute has been pushed into politics. Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller has refused to meet the parent organizations on their request for a special session of the legislature to make the city Board of Education elective rather than appointive.
Sen. Kenneth B. Keating (R) on Sept. 5 came out against "compulsory busing long distances outside local school districts."
Robert F. Kennedy, his Democratic opponent, on Sept. 8 opposed "compulsory transportation over long distances away from schools in their own neighborhoods."
Donovan's answer: "They must be discussing an integration program in another city because our program does not contemplate any long-distance busing."

be in presidential politics have begun to put wives on the team. Eleanor Roosevelt started it when she proved a First Lady could be a whirlwind personality in her own right.
Pat Nixon confirmed the potentialities when she complemented the sometimes dour image of her husband with her sweetness, poise and graciousness.
Jackie Kennedy clinched the proposition.
And now they are running helmsmates into the game with the first team. The wives and families run with the presidential and vice-presidential candidates.
It's all right with this correspondent, though we've never really recovered from Jackie. Not that we had anything against Pat at the time, but Jackie just happened to be our type, that's all.
And now to start looking 'em over for 1964. All dolls, every one of 'em. Depends on what type you like.

Odd Facts

Ancestor worship, a person's reverence for the wisdom and leadership of the dead members of his family, was practiced in ancient Greece and Rome, and such worship is still common today in China, Japan, India, and parts of Africa. This form of honoring one's ancestors in such countries as China helps keep the family closely united, and sometimes it has more binding power than love of country.
The largest single use of nickel is in stainless steel. Last year, about 170 million pounds, or 34 per cent of the free world's nickel consumption, went into these versatile alloys.
Upon its completion late this year, the Verrazano - Narrows Bridge, connecting Brooklyn and Staten Island, will be the world's longest suspension bridge, having a center span of 4,260 feet — which will surpass the former "champion," San Francisco's Golden Gate Bridge with its center span of 4,200 feet.

Keenan Sets Up The Labor Handshakes

By Victor Riesel

On Labor Day morning President Johnson flew without his "football" to kick off his political campaign in Detroit's Cadillac Square. No ordinary pigskin this "football" is. It is a compilation of the nation's most secret codes — the ones which M. R. Johnson would use to unleash a nuclear attack. The "football" was carried by Major Gen. Chester Clifton, who was in a following jet.
With Gen. Clifton, and not with the President for the first time, was LBJ's physician, Rear Admiral George G. Burkley. The seats the general and the admiral could have occupied in the President's 12-passenger air craft were used by two labor leaders whom Mr. Johnson preferred to have with him for the kick off. They are Joseph D. Keenan, easily one of the most popular and beloved leaders of the former AFL unions, and Jack Conway, long Walter Reuther's personal assistant and now executive head of Reuther's Industrial Union Dept. of the AFL-CIO.

EN ROUTE Mr. Johnson spent half his time alone going over the speech, its delivery and the outline of the long ad lib. Frequently he conferred with White House speech writer Dick Goodwin. But there was little conversation with the labor men or with the five congressmen, one of whom is an ex-labor leader, Sen. Pat McNamara.
Obviously, Mr. Johnson wanted Keenan and Conway right with him when he got off the plane. This flight is a prelude. It is the operational pattern for the campaign.

Manipulated Justice

By David Lawrence

Directives To FBI Are Questioned

Many members of Congress have read with amazement that the Department of Justice in the last three years has supposedly been manipulated for political purposes by the attorney general, Robert F. Kennedy. The published stories were intended to compliment the outgoing David Lawrence Cabinet officer and call attention to important steps he had taken.
But these same published accounts have served also to emphasize that the American people ought never to permit a system wherein a politician can run the Department of Justice. In fact, it would be a big step forward if the department could be divorced from the Cabinet altogether and from control by any president, just as the courts are independent of the executive.
Mr. Kennedy, in the tributes of praise in certain newspapers after he resigned, is said to have advised J. Edgar Hoover to "redirect" the major efforts of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. The reports say the FBI was told to cut down on its Communist - hunting activities and pay more attention to "civil rights," even though this might involve a slackening of FBI operations against espionage agents and particularly Communists.

THE RECORD, however, doesn't bear out the boasts of those who claim the FBI pursued other channels while presumably neglecting its prescribed functions. There have been a number of arrests and convictions of espionage agents — far more than ever before. It was the FBI which caught a Navy enlisted man in the act of handing vital documents to a member of the Soviet mission to the United Nations. It was the FBI which detected the State Department employee who passed classified information to the Polish government.
More than a dozen Soviet officials and satellite agents were expelled from the United States in the last three years, and most of these expulsions were based on information obtained by the FBI showing involvement in espionage or sabotage activities inside the United States.
To charge that the FBI has been neglectful of organized crime and has had to be goaded by Mr. Kennedy into action in that area sounds like an attempt to make a campaign boast. For the one man who has year after year spoken out against organized crime in America and at the same time has directed the FBI's vast personnel to ferret out wrongdoing is J. Edgar Hoover.
It was the FBI which first obtained the disclosures by Joseph Valachi about the Cosa Nostra syndicate, and these confirmed information previously uncovered by Mr. Hoover's men.

WHY WEREN'T the American people informed of this interference with the FBI? The civil rights laws which now spell out federal jurisdiction on certain matters were not in effect during the last three years. Yet the FBI was supposed to allow itself to be used as a political tool to help the voting fortunes of the administration. If the FBI could be manipulated for one purpose on a given day, it could be ordered on another day to carry on vendettas and otherwise distort the whole system of honest law enforcement.

The FBI has been directed for 40 years by Mr. Hoover. He sticks to the letter of the law. He does not favor either political party as he supervises the operations of a huge detective force. He has won the admiration of police officers throughout the country because he has adhered strictly to the law without political bias.
It will come as a surprise to many people that the FBI actually was told to cut down on its Communist - hunting activities for if political intrigue can direct the FBI, then every administration will be suspected of using its influence for such purposes.

BOTH BEFORE and during Mr. Kennedy's service as attorney general, the FBI is known to have filed thousands of reports to Department of Justice officials which reveal the effectiveness of the bureau of investigating organized crime and reporting on the activities of the leaders in the underworld.

Much of the anti-crime legislation now in effect was recommended by the FBI — as, for example, the broadening of the Fugitive Felon Act, which enables the bureau's agents actively to assist state and local authorities in arresting fugitives who cross state lines.
But, for the most part, the country will be surprised to learn that, even though the latest effort was unsuccessful, it's possible for an attorney general's edict to endeavor to tie the hands of the FBI and cause it to slacken its efforts in dealing with Communist activities in the United States.
The sooner the Department of Justice is made an independent agency, the quicker will public confidence be assured in the impartial enforcement of the law.

Smoothing The Road

By George F. W. Telfer

Efforts are going ahead to help developing countries make their development projects better known and to find out who can best help them. A proposed panel for settling disputes over international investments also could help speed the flow of funds to needy nations.
They rely much more today than ever on agencies like the World Bank, the United Nations Special Fund, and development banks and finance companies sprouting up in their own countries.

The U.N.'s trade and development conference in Geneva last spring called upon countries seeking private foreign capital to make their investment climate as attractive as possible.
The U.N.'s Economic and Social Council (ECOSOC) has compiled a skeleton list of laws and regulations on foreign private investment. It also lists agreements providing for promotion and protection of such investments and agreements for avoidance of double taxation.

Beyond these steps the Geneva parley urged greater publicity on the areas where investments is needed, the way it's to be done, and the government's investment policy.
Also, it said more countries should set up investment promotion centers in major capital markets of the world. The U.N. in 1959 put out a manual on how to set one up and added lists of those in New York.

With large and growing markets in the highly advanced nations, businessmen don't normally seek out investment opportunities in developing countries. This is one of the main reasons for foreign aid and international financing agencies.
Even if a private company in an industrialized country does want to put some money in a developing country, it may not be able readily to find out where the opportunities are. In fact, one problem is the shortage of sound and ready projects.

The most desirable kind of foreign private investment has become the joint venture. It gives local capital a chance to take part and earn some of the profits. It also can spread the foreign assistance more broadly. As it helps diversify the economy, it brings with it know-how.
Countries like India have come to realize that government financing, even with massive foreign aid, can't carry the load. Therefore, India is making a sincere effort to attract foreign private capital.

PLEASANT HEIGHTS UNITED BRETHREN CHURCH EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO

THE FAMILY THAT PRAYS TOGETHER STAYS TOGETHER

Broken homes, divorce, vandalism threaten our society. In 1870 the ratio of divorces filed to marriages performed was 1 to 34.4; in 1910 it was 1 to 11.3; in 1960 it was 1 to 3.8. In 1962 one of our States had 16,482 marriages and 9,285 petitions for divorce, annulment or separate maintenance. "Where are we headed?" "What will it be like in 1980?" "Is there an answer?"

I HAVE NEVER KNOWN A DIVORCE OCCURRING IN A FAMILY WHERE BOTH COMPANIONS ATTENDED CHURCH TOGETHER REGULARLY. A united, harmonious, church-going family is the purifying influence on society which prevents the nation from going totally bad.

This does not say that if you do not go to church you are headed for the divorce courts... but it DOES demonstrate that regular church attendance by BOTH parents brings into the home a divine influence, a mutual understanding which does not otherwise exist.

WHAT ABOUT THE CHILDREN?

It is a conservative estimate that at least one-half of the children of the East Liverpool community do not attend any Sunday School. This means that about fifty percent of the parents consider religious training of their children unimportant—which is not strange, since so many parents have no interest in the church. "In God We Trust" appears to mean nothing to them as they spend their wages. They do not care whether their children grow up to believe in God or not! This indifferent attitude in the nation toward the teaching of the Church no doubt has paved the way for the limiting of prayer and Bible reading in the school, and for the movement to eliminate "In God We Trust" from our coins and currency.

INDIFFERENT "CHRISTIANS"

Many citizens of this community who rarely go to church would strongly resent any intimation that they are not Christians at all. Christianity is not merely being a good citizen and living a good life, a moral life, and being helpful to others. Christianity is a WAY OF LIFE and a WAY OF FELLOWSHIP that cannot be lived without prayer and WORSHIP. And don't give out with that old song that you can worship God in the hills and along the streams. Of course you can, but DO you? Do you know what WORSHIP is? It's not saying "Good morning, Lord. Thank you for this beautiful day." WORSHIP is praying for forgiveness of our sins; thanking God for all our blessings; singing His praises. WORSHIP is praying for others, sharing, giving. WORSHIP is spiritual fellowship with other worshippers, it is dedication of the life to God.

NOW IS THE TIME TO START

You have tried everything else, why not try praying! Why don't you give God an opportunity with your life? Start attending church regularly next Sunday. Take the children, don't send them. If you are not attending any other church in this community we cordially invite you to attend the Sunday School at 9:30 a.m., or the Worship Hour at 10:45 a.m., or the Evening Preaching Service at 7:00 p.m. at the Graceful lines of tall trees were scratched on an ink-coated paper to create this work by John Brown of Hammondsville when he was a city ninth grader last year.

A rather wild giraffe and a little girl in crayon reveal the imagination of Deborah Abbott, now a third grader at Garfield School.

The graceful form of an earthenware pitcher is caught in a pencil drawing by Alyce Mathias, now a senior.

A red-roofed covered bridge draws the eye with color and bold perspective lines in this water color by John Brown, now a sophomore.

A city's skyline is depicted in this abstract made from paper strips on cardboard, assembled by Linda Cox, now a junior.

Art Is Vital Part Of School

'Draw Me A Picture'

By GLENN WAIGHT

A swipe of crayon, a penciled curve, a clump of clay, a bright daub of paint . . .

These are the approaches by artists to representing human experience.

And these are among the applications which our area school students make to this form of creativity.

East Liverpool boys and girls, from first to 12th grade, pursue some artistic endeavor, if not in regular art classes, then in their own doodling or special hobby.

FIRST GRADERS use crayon, colored pencils, water colors, tempera and chalk to express their new ideas, develop coordination and portray the world about them. Many 6-year-olds show amazing ability to draw figures or scenes, their originality uninhibited by conventional methods.

Each classroom teacher provides art lessons to pupils in the first through third grades. Regular art instruction is given to students in grades four through six by Miss Martha Bloor, while grades seven and nine are taught by Mrs. Jean Lampman.

Mrs. Pat Kithas is the high school art supervisor.

Art throughout the school program is designed to teach the various media and techniques and to provide both the discipline of correct method plus the freedom of self-expression.

This expression is integrated in many cases with other subjects in the curriculum. For example, a student's assignment may be to draw a ship during the period in which his other classes are studying transportation or history or water buoyancy in science.

STUDENTS ARE also made acquainted with famed works of the past and present and taught the history of art.

Creation on the student's part reflects his or her artistic abilities in terms of form or perspective. But it also brings out hidden ideas, emotions and personality characteristics, ranging from unrealized fears to rash humor.

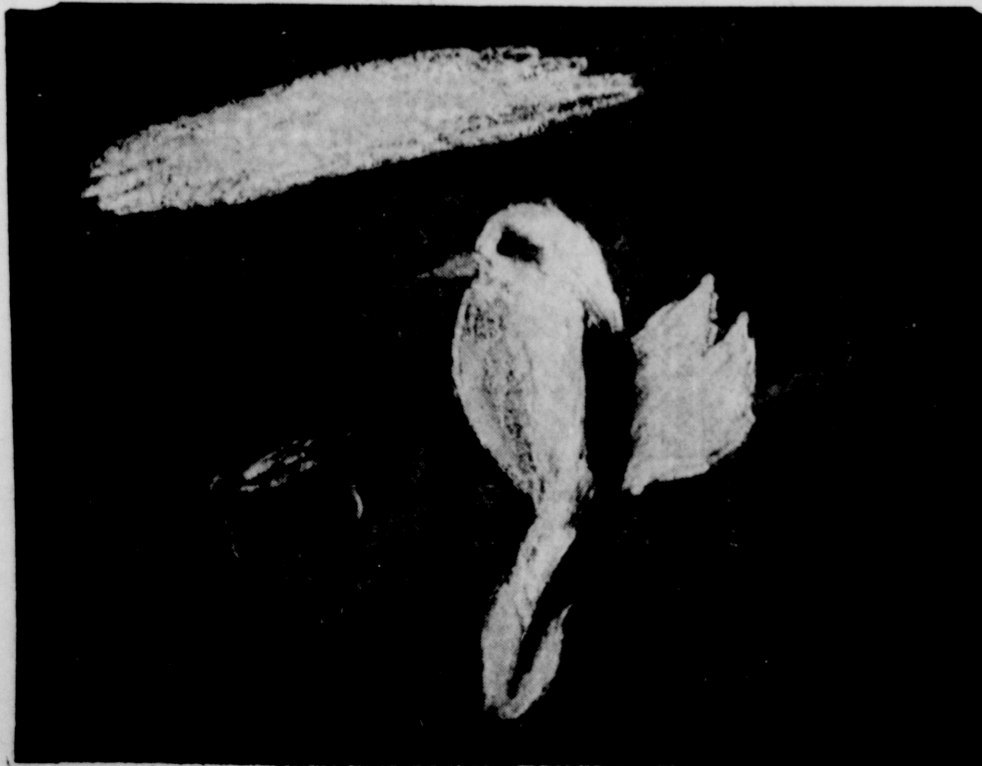

Work shown on these pages was selected from various classes in the city schools last spring. They were produced by young people in groups or individually, copying or in self-expression, in sudden bursts of creative energy or in painstaking progression.

But more were done in a common feeling of pleasure, and these students would agree with the English poet Robert Browning who wrote:

"One may do whatever one likes
In Art; the only thing is, to make sure
One does like it."

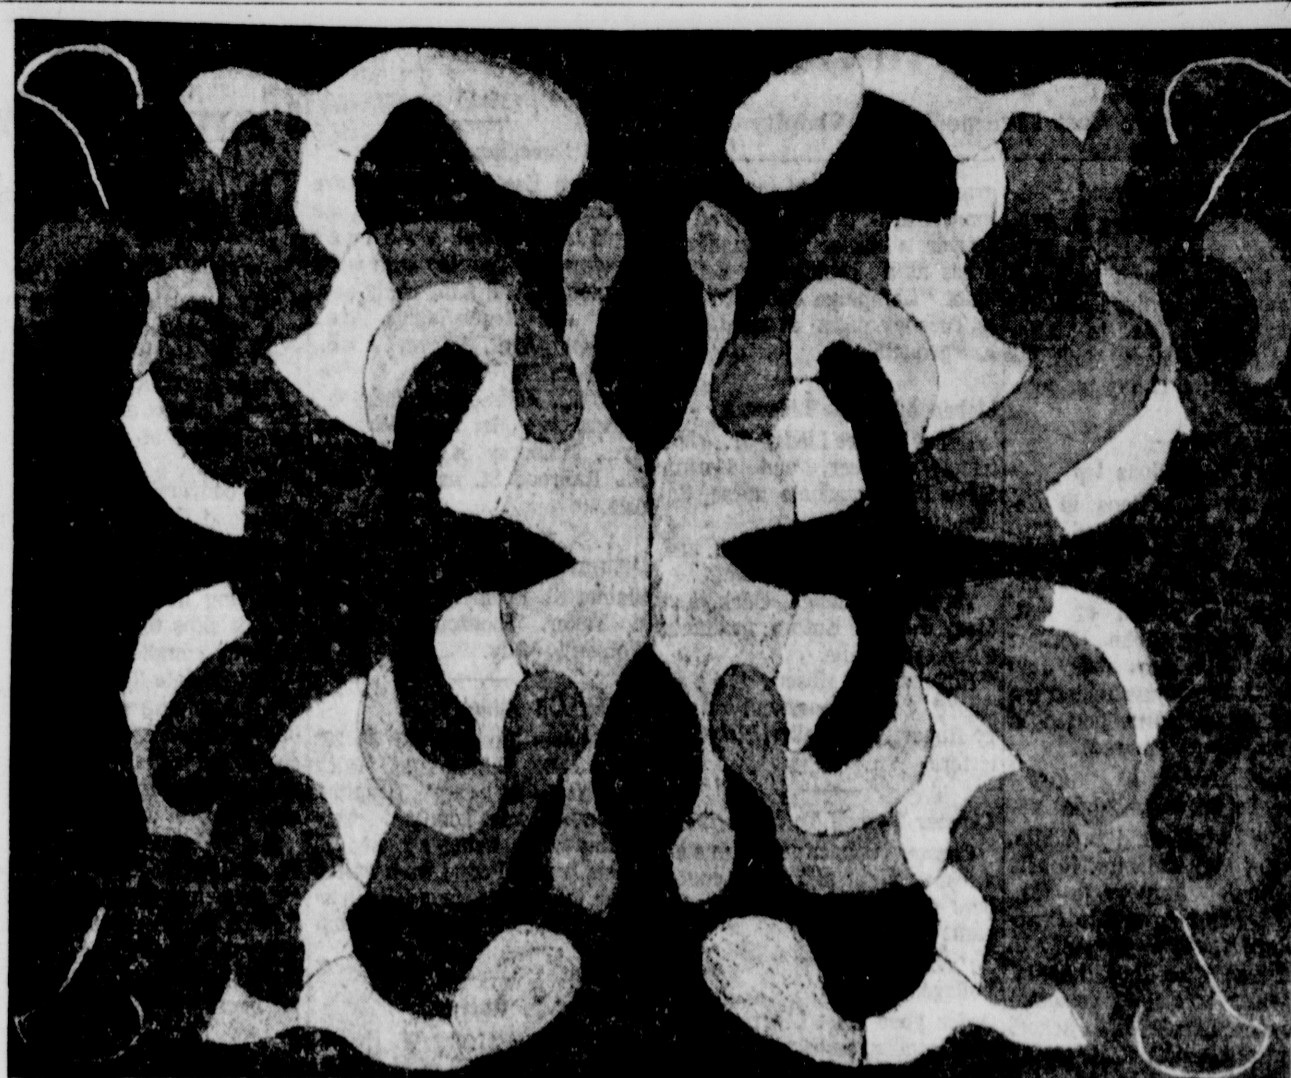

A group project was this large flower arrangement made by fourth graders at Lincoln School who cut out paper blossoms and pasted them to the large sheet of paper.

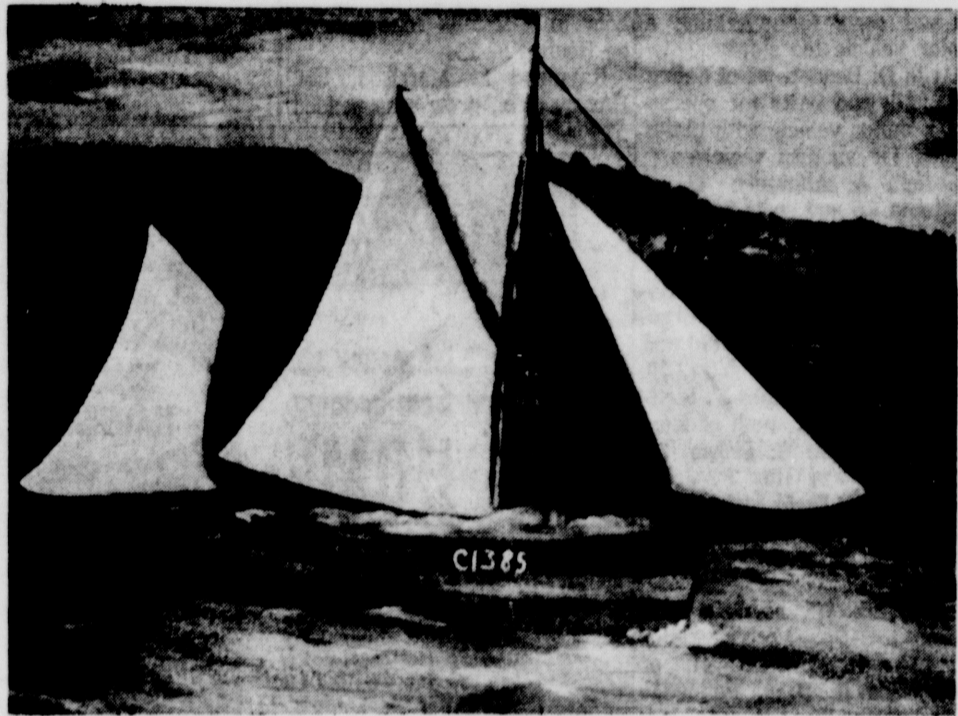

A brightly colored bird, drawn in chalk by Vera Lockhart as a fifth grader at Lincoln last year, shows how art can be related to biology and other subjects.

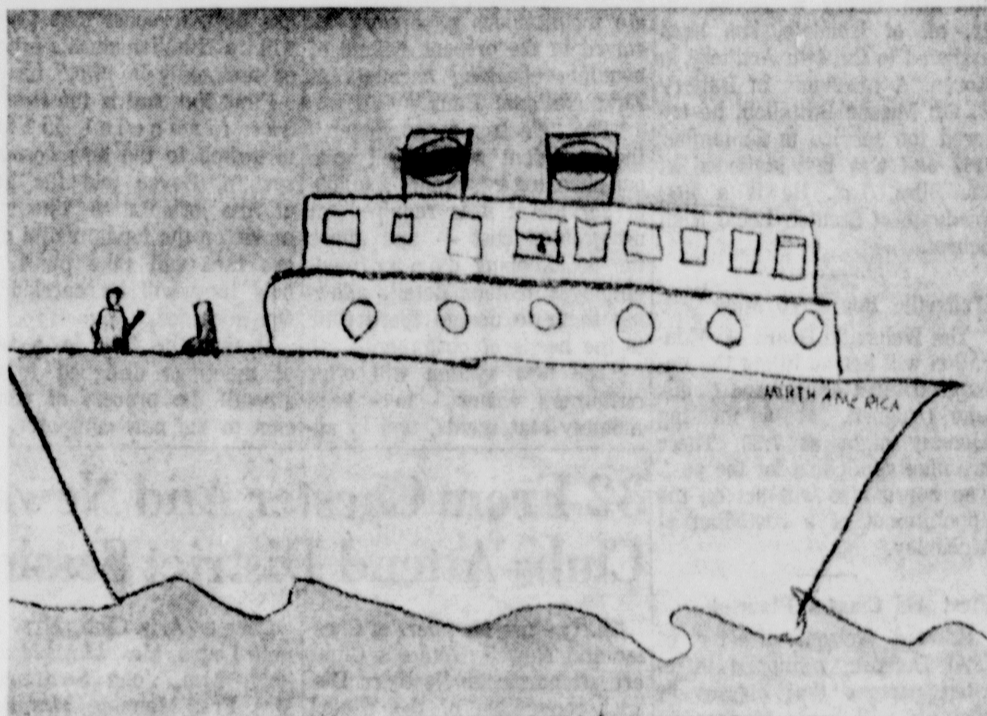

Bold paint strokes put a feeling of strength in this quiet scene done by Robert Cochran as a ninth grader.

Multi-colored mirror design was done in pastel chalk as a group project by Westgate seventh graders.

Movement and color mark this oil done by Deborah Mackey as a senior last year, copied from a photograph.

Philip Weber drew this chalk picture of an ocean liner as a third grader at Westgate.

This subdued oil still life was painted by Judy Tatenhorst in a sophomore art class.

You And The Law

Alert observers frequently notice that some articles are patented, while other seemingly similar items are copyrighted. The question accordingly arises as to what constitutes the difference between a patent and a statutory copyright.

Patents are granted to inventors on new and useful articles of manufacture, compositions of matter, machines, methods and processes, ornamental designs of articles of manufacture and certain types of plants.

Copyrights are granted to authors, composers or artists on works of art such as books (which includes not only bound volumes, but also pamphlets, leaflets and even single sheets), periodicals, speeches, plays, musical compositions, works of art, maps, photographs and motion pictures.

Some articles are difficult for an untrained observer to classify. Printed forms are an example of such an article.

If the form is a card or sheet having a peculiar shape or a physical structure (such as perforations or notches in certain positions) that adapts the card or sheet for a particular use, so that it amounts to a new and useful article of manufacture, the card or the sheet may constitute a subject for coverage by patent.

If the same card or sheet also bears artistic graphic matter such as a written text, a compilation of figures or of other data, a chart, or a diagram, the original arrangement of the graphic matter (distinguished from the card or sheet itself) may be subject of coverage by copyright as well as by patent.

Stamps In The News

Togo's "Union and Reconciliation" set consists of five new stamps and features topical designs of butterflies, flowers and peace doves. Each stamp also bears a portrait of Togo's President Nicolas Grunitsky. The 1 F. is maroon, 5 F. brown, 25 F. blue, 45 F. orange and 85 F. olive green. Togo's Olympic Games set will be released in October and will consist of large square stamps of five denominations. Depicted will be football, track, discus thrower and tennis.

The Republic of China has issued two new stamps in honor of its Armed Forces Day, reports the World Wide Philatelic Agency. Both stamps have a common design featuring a line of field artillery, a group of warships and a squadron of jet fighter planes. This will be the Republic of China's 10th Armed Forces Day celebration.

The French Minister of Posts and Telecommunications has announced that a new stamp of France commemorates the 50th anniversary of the Victory of the Marne. The 30 centimes stamp shows various military equipment in use at that time. The dates 1914 - 1964 appear at the top. Also announced by France was a new 60 franc commemorative honoring the 800th anniversary of Notre Dame de Paris.

A beautiful new album — The John F. Kennedy Memorial Stamp Album — has just been published by Minkus Publications. It contains spaces for the U.S. Kennedy Memorial single and plate block plus the stamps of 15 other countries including Sharjah, Dubai, Sierra Leone, Argentina, Mexico and Costa Rica. The album accommodates 84 stamps and souvenir sheets. In addition to the spaces for the stamps are special features for collectors and noncollectors. Included are the eulogy of Sen. Mansfield, a portrait of the late President, a flag at half mast, the now famous inaugural address, the presidential seal and a replica of his signature. The price of the album is $3.50.

'Armor Day' Demonstrations Planned

This is the business end of a M-48 tank, a 50-ton armored vehicle which, along with the infantry, is the ground fist of the United States in war.

M. Sgt. John Chavis of East Liverpool, left, and M. Sgt. Charles Kelly of Wellsville are shown in the turret of the tracked monster during maneuvers of Co. A, 7th Battalion, 68th Armored of the 33rd Division at Camp A. P. Hill in Virginia in June.

District residents have been invited to inspect the 68th's armored unit's equipment, see a mock engagement and ride in tanks at the annual "Armor Day" Sunday at the Ravenna Arsenal.

Tanks, communications equipment, field kitchens, wheeled vehicles, the medical section and individual equipment will be on display when the second annual "open house" begins at 1 p. m.

A communications demonstration will be given at 2 p. m. with a radio controller giving commands to several tanks. Both sides of the talking will be heard on a public address system.

AN ATTACK problem will be staged, with an "Aggressor" force moving against a tank platoon, blank machinegun and cannon ammunition adding realism to the spectacle.

An area will be set aside for the public to ride the tanks, radio controlled to eliminate danger to passengers.

Additional entrances and parking sites have been constructed at the arsenal to reduce traffic congestion. Eight thousand attended the 1963 event.

Capt. James E. Fox of Chester is commander of Co. A which has 43 enlisted men and three officers from this area. The men hold training sessions two Tuesdays and one Sunday of each month.

Headquarters and headquarters company of the battalion, commanded by Lt. Col. Arnold Bokesch of Youngstown, are located at Salem.

Co. C is at East Palestine and is commanded by Capt. Leroy Murphy of East Liverpool, and Co. B is at Lordstown Military Reservation.

CAPT. JOHN Muller of East Liverpool is battalion intelligence officer assigned to the headquarters unit.

The open house site can be reached by traveling to Warren, heading west from Warren on Route 5 to Route 534 and turning north to Gate Four of the Arsenal where signs will be posted and guards will assist visitors.

The demonstrations and displays show the capability of the Army Reserves and indicate the long hours of training and preparation required from the members, Capt. Fox reported.

Spadea Designer Pattern

Arriving well ahead of winter, Tom Brigrance's wonderful suit is ready now to wear alone and later under wraps, to brighten the dark wintry days yet to come.

In one clean sweep, a wide margin sets off the jacket edges and forms a flattering yoke that softly shoulders the front sleeve section. The three-buttoned jacket has a slightly cut-away shape. A slender skirt completes this shapely suit story, the perfect complement to many fabrics — smooth or textured wools, double knits, wild silk, shantung, suiting weight cottons or linen.

Health, Safety Tips

The ups and downs of your blood pressure help to forecast the state of your health, somewhat like the readings of a barometer help to forecast the weather, the American Medical Association points out.

If the arterial blood pressure becomes too low to circulate the blood properly, certain vital organs, particularly the brain, fail to function. Dizziness on standing, fainting or cold skin may be due to blood pressure that is too low for your body's needs.

High blood pressure, properly called arterial hypertension, is an abnormal state of the circulation that may be a cause as well as a result of arterial disease.

HYPERTENSION appears to be a complex of influences from our inheritance, emotional life, diet, stress, exercise and the body's response to the vicissitudes of life. A disease of this nature hardly can be expected to respond to a pill or a potion or be cured by a single course of some panacea.

Hypertension requires a lifetime of management. The patient and his doctor, working together, plan a living pattern, supplemented by various medical procedures, that will result in the longest and most useful life the patient can live.

In dealing with hypertension, first there must be a medical history and a complete physical examination. Therapy often includes various medications which your doctor prescribes.

Diet and weight control may be an important part of the treatment.

And a planned way of life often is essential, involving hours of sleep and exercise, periods of rest and frequent vacations away from the problems of home and the stress of business.

BLOOD pressure tends to increase with age. High blood pressure will ultimately produce disabling or fatal complications. To help prevent complications, long-time management must be planned.

It is highly important in combating hypertension that there be close rapport between the patient and his physician. It is essential that the patient understand his disease, know the need for continued treatment and be willing to tolerate the occasional unpleasant side effects of some of the drugs used. The patient must look to the long-term good to be obtained.

High blood pressure may continue for years before any serious physical symptoms show up. Thus it is important to have regular physical checkups, so that your doctor can detect any abnormalities of blood pressure early and begin therapy.

At First National Computerized Handling Due Checking Accounts

Following a trend in the industry towards employing modern, new techniques, the First National Bank is converting checking accounts to a contemporary process arising from the development of electronic computers.

The conversion will follow two steps and the first — assigning numbers to all of First National's 8,000 checking accounts and supplying new checkbooks and deposit slips to customers — is virtually completed.

Target date for use of electronic computers worth $9 million to receive the present accounts at an off-premise location, second step in the conversion plan, is Oct. 10.

A detailed explanation of the "computer process" of checking accounts was presented by Robert E. Boyce, president, at a dinner meeting of First National employees, officers and members of the Board of Directors Thursday night at the Travelers Hotel.

"Aim of the new process," Boyce explained, "is to eliminate mountainous paperwork involved in the present system of handling checking accounts at First National Bank."

"The electronic computer," the president said, "will give our checking customers a quicker service if it is required—at no greater cost — and spare the bookkeeping department employees tedious detail, allowing them to devote more time to the needs of customers."

"The new system will offer customers easier - to - read monthly statements, and in ad-

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: How can I get grass stains out of tan jeans?

A READER.
Sponge the stain with dry cleaning solvent and let it dry thoroughly. Wash in neutral, synthetic detergent. If stain remains, it can be bleached with 3 per cent hydrogen peroxide and - or chlorine bleach, following directions on the bottle.

Where applicable, pour liquid detergent on the spot and rub the fabric between the fingers so the detergent gets down into the fibers. Let set a while. Then wash as usual.

Or dilute rubbing alcohol with two parts water. Do NOT use soap. This sometimes sets a permanent stain when used with extremely hot water.

Be sure your jeans are color-fast. Test a hidden spot first.

HELOISE.
DEAR HELOISE: To make a hole in a plastic kitchen gadget (such as a dishpan you want to hang on a hook), heat a nail in a gas flame. The size of the nail will depend upon the size hole you wish to make. Use pliers to hold the nail.

It will go through the plastic easily and not spoil the utensil.

H. M. SCHWARTZ.
DEAR HELOISE: An easy way to do crocheted doilies, which have been heavily starched, is to block them into shape on top of your automatic dryer.

This should be done while the dryer is in use. (The top of the dryer does become slightly - heated.) In a very short time, the doilies will dry completely and beautifully with no hand-ironing needed.

MRS. S. KANTOR.
DEAR HELOISE: When a small child hurts a finger, bandage the finger as usual, then slip a small paper bag over his hand and tie the bag loosely at the wrist.

The bag keeps the bandage clean while he plays and he can tell everyone it is a boxing glove!

READER.
DEAR HELOISE: I use black, liquid shoe polish on the bottom of my stove and cabinets to touch up the black spots. Sometimes these portions get knicked. I also use black, liquid shoe polish (I'm positive this woman means a liquid shoe dye! - Heloise) on my wrought iron, as well as the edges of my black furniture, when it becomes scratched.

I use brown shoe polish on all of my brown furniture and then use furniture polish over this. It works beautifully.

Having moved into a new home in which the walls are painted white, the marks on the walls posed quite a problem until I discovered that I could take white shoe polish and cover the marks until we could repaint.

If the polish is whiter than your walls, add a few drops of coloring (I used food coloring) to get the nearest color. In one room I used blue food coloring added to the white polish and got the exact color.

After mixing the coloring in a little cup, I dipped some cotton in the polish mixture and dabbed away.

MRS. CRAMER.
DEAR HELOISE: Before cooking and frying foods, I find that if I spread newspapers on the floor in front of my stove it catches any splattering of grease or fat. After I'm finished, I just pick up the paper and put it in the waste basket.

This saves much time in mopping floors and is a safety precaution as it prevents our family from slipping on greasy floors and possibly getting hurt.

B. KODIDEK.
DEAR HELOISE: When I made my kitchen curtains, I bought an extra yard of the material and made a tablecloth to match.

I pulled out the threads at each end of the material to make a fringe about one inch deep. It looked so nice that I decided to make several. They are all 36-inches square . . . no sewing, just a fringe at each end. They're so bright and cheerful looking. Inexpensive, too.

Interstate 71 Stretch Due To Be Corrected
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Highway Director P. E. Masheter has notified his division engineer in Middletown that department engineers have found a 1,500-foot stretch of road on Interstate 71 that will have to be corrected.

The director said the stretch of road is just west of the U.S. 72 interchange and 10 miles northeast of Wilmington. He said the road developed wavy contour and variable crown. The contractors have agreed to make repairs, Masheter said, adding that it should in no way delay the opening on I-71 from Columbus to Cincinnati.

Professor Also Garbage Collector

YARMOUTH, Maine (AP) — Augustus F. Jones, 64, looks like a garbage collector to at least 50 families on Littlejohn's and Cousins islands.

But to scores of students and the faculty at Dean Junior College in Franklin, Mass., Jones looks and acts like a sociology professor.

And he's both. Nine months a year he brings oil to the lamps of learning, and he went back to that life Wednesday. The other three he takes wet and dry waste off the islands to a pigsty and dump.

Prof. Jones is rather proud of his ability to turn a hand in the sanitation trade.

"I have been doing this summers for more years than I care to count," he said. "It's sort of a mission with me. Somebody's got to keep the island clean and if the rubbish isn't collected regularly it becomes a problem."

"Some solved it by buying it. But a lot of others would just start small dumps all over the place. Not neat at all, and not right."

World's Rain Capital Dry For September

KETCHIKAN, Alaska (AP) — Some visitors have called Ketchikan the rain capital of the world. They should be here now. Not a drop of rain has fallen this month.

In the first 10 days of September last year, 14.44 inches rain came down.

In August, the rainfall was 19.64 inches. Last year's total precipitation was 169.56 inches, a foot and a half above normal.

Rains That Never Came

Drought Costs Farmers Millions In Crops Losses

CHICAGO (AP) — The rains that never came have cost American farmers from New England to the Rockies millions of dollars in damaged crops this summer.

An Associated Press survey shows that they stand to lose millions more because drought conditions still prevail in many sections of the country.

Compounding the farmers' woes has been scorching temperatures that left fields parched.

Rural counties in some agricultural states have been declared federal disaster areas, with farmers obtaining emergency loans.

The dry spell has also forced some communities to ration or curtail the use of water by the general public.

Here is a rundown of the situation in affected states:

Kentucky — Drought blamed for estimated cut of 50 million pounds in burley tobacco output, the state's major cash crop.

New Mexico — 15 of 32 counties receiving some kind of drought disaster aid. Water reported in short supply at state reservoirs.

New York — Drought has lasted five months in some eastern and central upstate counties, resulting in dried-up pastures, stunted grain crops and a scarcity of hay. Many communities have restrictions on use of water and dairymen are asking for a revision of the federal milk-price formula to cover increased feed costs.

Indiana — Serious forest fires threaten in the southern part of state unless substantial rain falls in the next 10 days. But little crop loss anticipated, although rivers and creeks in northwest Indiana are at lowest levels in a decade.

Colorado — Five eastern counties asking disaster relief. Wheat crop hit hardest.

Missouri — Relief from recent rains but corn crop throughout state already damaged and pastures in poor shape.

Kansas — Farmers in some central and western areas waiting for rain before planting wheat. September rains have alleviated situation elsewhere.

Wisconsin — More than 20 counties declared eligible for federal assistance although new rainfall has improved the situation.

Pennsylvania — Several counties in north central and northeast receiving disaster aid. Hay, corn and pastures hardest hit.

Texas — Moisture short over most of the state. Livestock conditions generally poor and herds dwindling. Hay, cotton, corn and peanut harvest fair to poor. City water supplies mostly adequate but some small towns have rationed water.

Illinois — Corn and soybean crops expected to be poorer due to August dry spell.

Massachusetts — Pasture conditions poorest in 15 years. Apple, cranberry and blueberry crops expected to be smaller than usual.

Ohio — Most of central, southern and western Ohio very dry. Last measureable rainfall in Columbus was Aug. 22, one-half inch. Corn crop suffering and pastures dry but no scarcity of drinking water.

New Jersey — August was the driest in the state's history. Last substantial rainfall in Trenton July 31. Dairy farmer hardest hit and unusual number of wood and brush fires reported in the past week.

West Virginia — North-central area approved for grazing livestock on soil bank acreage because of drought conditions. No serious shortage of moisture elsewhere.

Maryland — Pasture feed supplies very short due to water shortage in most important livestock areas, but tobacco harvest proceeding more rapidly than 1963.

Iowa — Drought lifted in August but still responsible for 39-million-bushel drop in corn yield estimate.

Nebraska — No serious drought condition although southwest wheat area seeding delayed somewhat due to dry soil conditions.

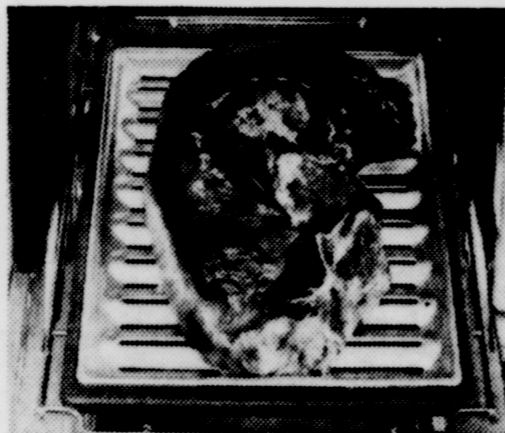

Oklahoma — Drought considered critical until August rain brightened the crop outlook.

Oak Glen Turns Back Wellsville With 24-12 Victory

By CHUCK CRONIN

Oak Glen's pony backfield, hitting hard and steady throughout, punctured the enemy defense for four touchdowns in a 24-12 triumph over Wellsville High in one of the district lid-lifters Friday night.

A near capacity crowd of 4,000 looked on at Newell's Memorial Field where the Golden Bears picked up their first victory after an opening loss to St. Mary's a week ago, while Wellsville opened unsuccessfully, plagued by fumbles and penalties.

For the most part, it was an evenly-matched battle in rushing; the edge came in the penalty department and superior all-around play of Oak Glen.

USING deception and a well-balanced attack free of fumbles in dangerous territory, Coach Robert Starkey's Golden Bears were the much better team in terms of offensive polish, obviously benefitting from having played that first game.

Bears Gain 1st Win Before 4,000

But early opener or no, halfbacks Marvin Six and Neil Rayle and fullback Tom Andrews, all small but full of determination, were dependable offensive weapons throughout the fray.

An offside penalty wiped out one of the most thrilling plays of the game — a 65-yard run by fullback Chris Thornton of Wellsville on a fake punt in the second quarter.

OAK GLEN recovered and went on to score twice in the second period, adding single touchdowns in the third and fourth quarters to gain a 24-advantage near the conclusion. The rugged Thornton, 180-pound sophomore, played a furious game for Wellsville, both ways, and scored one touchdown on a screen pass that covered 64 yards. Big Chris was helped from the field with 2:22 remaining with a leg injury, but was not hurt seriously.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 12, 1964 PAGE 12

The big Wellsville fullback carried 18 times for 50 yards and also tacked on the long scoring pass.

For Oak Glen, it was fullback Tom Andrews seeing heavy duty, carrying 15 times for 72 yards and one touchdown to help the Bears set a new scoring standard in their second season of football.

OAK GLEN capitalized on a 15-yard penalty against Thornton in the second quarter to move into scoring position. The Wellsville star was charged with pulling a face mask at the Wellsville 29.

In two plays, the Hancock Countians had their first score as Andrews bulled into the end zone, and fumbled into the hands of Rayle in the left corner.

Minutes later, quarterback Mike Clutter fired a perfect pass up the middle to end Tim Duke, who was pulled down four yards short of the goal. The pass was perfectly timed, caught by Duke on the run. Six plunged four yards for the score, giving the Bears a 12-0 lead with 1:44 left before halftime.

MIDWAY through the fourth quarter, Wellsville was called for clipping at the Tiger 30 after an Oak Glen punt. Chris Thornton, who had moved to quarterback earlier, faded to pass and threw but it was intercepted in a great catch by Dan Clark of Oak Glen.

Clark returned it to the 18 and Oak Glen scored in five short runs, Clutter sneaking over from the two for a 24-6 lead. The placement try was again blocked.

Wellsville got its final touchdown with only 2:17 left in the game. Halfback Greg Thomas came through with a shoestring catch of a Harry Thornton pass at the Oak Glen four yard line, and Ron McCauley caught a pass two plays later for the score.

WHILE being escorted from the field by well-wishers, Starkey took time to heap praise on his offensive backs, Dan Clark, defensive safety, and the entire Oak Glen line.

Coach Ken Woods felt penalties hurt the Tigers seriously and expressed disappointment at his defensive line for yielding four touchdowns. He liked the play of his ends, however.

Both coaches had praise for Chris Thornton, whose ability to turn in exciting runs had fans of both sides buzzing.

Oak Glen moved through the entire first half without a penalty and finished with only three for 25 yards.

Stanton Falls At Hopedale, 20-12

HOPEDALE — The debut of Howard Gilger as Stanton Local's new mentor was spoiled by Hopedale who dealt the Red Raiders a 20-12 setback here Friday night.

The defeat was the third in a row for Stanton at the hands of Hopedale.

The winners scored twice in the first quarter when Gordie Merriman took the opening kickoff and sprinted 80 yards for the TD. Randy Richards added the conversion.

Later in the opening period, Dean Polen passed to end John Murdoch on a scoring play covering 30 yards.

Stanton made a strong comeback in the second quarter and managed to put across two touchdowns.

Jim Pilutti scored the first TD of the season for the Raiders on an eight-yard dash but the run for the conversion failed.

Doug Hamilton added the second touchdown on a 35-yard sprint later in the period but the conversion that would have tied the game failed.

Hopedale added six points of insurance in the fourth quarter when Richards rambled 25 yards with six minutes remaining in the contest.

Palestine Scores In 4th Period

Fullback Paces Bulldogs To 8-6 Win Over Canfield

EAST PALESTINE — Sophomore fullback Jim Parker's interception in the fourth quarter led to a last period touchdown allowing East Palestine to nip Canfield, 8-6, before some 3,500 fans here Friday night.

Trailing 6-0 on a first period score by Canfield, East Palestine bounced back to push across a touchdown and conversion with six minutes remaining in the contest.

PARKER, a workhorse throughout the evening for the Bulldogs, intercepted quarterback Gary Echinrod's pass at the East Palestine 40 and returned the pigskin to the Canfield 28.

Parker carried most of the remaining distance to the two where halfback Bill Istnick skirted left end for the touchdown.

The conversion, which was the margin of victory, came on a pass from quarterback Pete Peters to end Jim Harris.

CANFIELD had scored in the first quarter on a 34 yard pass play from Echinrod to halfback Dave Evans. The important conversion failed when Canfield attempted a placement.

Coach Ray Dempsey's East Palestine eleven met West Branch Saturday night at Salem.

Charleston Retained As Tournament Site

PARKERSBURG — The 1965 West Virginia high school basketball tournament definitely will be held at Charleston's Civic Center, the West Virginia Secondary School Activities Commission announced Friday.

The commission's announcement stemmed from a resolution passed by the West Virginia Sports Writers Association asking that the tournament be moved to Huntington this year, and back to Charleston next year.

W. Gordon Eismon, executive secretary for the commission, said the resolution had been adopted because the sports writers thought scheduled innovations on the Civic Center might conflict with the tournament.

Eismon said he had been assured by Denzil Skinner, manager of the Charleston facility, that the innovations were at least a year away and would not interfere. The 1966 tournament will be held at Huntington as scheduled, Eismon said.

Ethridge, an end, was hurt in a play 51 seconds before halftime. He was dead on arrival at a hospital.

There were no details from the hospital on the cause of death.

LEETONIA — Mel VanFossan, in a brilliant one-man gridiron show, scored all three touchdowns to spark Leetonia in an 18-12 home opener with United Friday night.

His other TD runs were five and seven yards, both coming in the second period.

United drew first blood in its opener when Martin Briceland skooted 12 yards for a TD in the first quarter. After Leetonia tallied twice in the second period, Gene Metzgar knotted the count at 12-12 with a 10-

Orioles Split, White Sox Win And Yankees Lose

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Kansas City Athletics seem to beat the Baltimore Orioles only once in a blue moon. The moon wasn't blue Friday night, but the A's pitcher was, and so were the Orioles.

Charles O. Finley's 75,000 bonus rookie, John (Blue Moon) Odom, an 18-year-old right-hander from Macon, Ga., was the starter for the Athletics in the nightcap of a two-night doubleheader against the Orioles. Baltimore had taken the opener 5-2 for Wally Bunker's 16th victory.

After what the Yankees did to Blue Moon in his big league debut (six runs in two innings last Saturday) Baltimore could hardly wait to get started against the youngster. They were so anxious, they nearly didn't get started at all.

Odom had a no-hitter for six innings and by the time the Orioles finally got a safety, the A's had a lead of 8-0, the final score.

Brooks Robinson opened the Oriole seventh with the fourth of six walks off Odom. Sam Bowers sent a bouncer at third baseman Tom Reynolds, who had two errors in the first game and bobbled two other grounders. The chopper bounced off Reynolds' legs and the official scorer ruled it a hit.

With Blue Moon's shot at immortality spoiled, players in the Athletic dugout and bullpen waved towels to show their displeasure with the decision. The only other hit off Odom came in the ninth when Robinson beat out a dribbler to the mound.

The split reduced Baltimore's American League lead to one-half game over Chicago which whipped Cleveland 7-3. Third place New York slipped two games off the pace, losing to Minnesota 5-3. Detroit edged Washington 5-4 and Boston blanked Los Angeles 3-0 in other AL action.

Bunker, who got late-inning help from Harvey Haddix, whipped the Athletics for the sixth time. John O'Donoghue, the A's starter, was the victim of leaky fielding support and two of the Oriole runs were scored as unearned.

Brooks Robinson ripped three singles in the opener, running his hitting string to 11 for 13. Robinson went 1 for 3 against Odom in the nightcap.

Gary Peters won his 17th game and Ron Hansen and Pete Ward clouted home runs to help Chicago whip Cleveland. Hansen had his 18th homer and Ward his 21st in the sixth as the White Sox took a 3-2 lead. But Chico Salmon tied it with a homer in the Indians' sixth.

The Sox pushed across the tie-breaking run on Floyd Robinson's infield single in the seventh and then wrapped it up with three runs in the eighth.

Jim Perry came on in the fourth inning and limited the Yankees to one hit until leaving for a hitter in the eighth as the Twins dropped the defending champions.

Perry relieved starter Gerry Arrigo after Joe Pepitone's 23rd homer had narrowed the Twins' lead to 4-39. He got out of the inning and then sailed through until the ninth when Al Worthington came on to finish up.

Bill Monbouquette pitched a five-hitter beating Dean Chance and the Angels. Dick Stuart drove in two runs for the Red Sox and helped hand Chance his second loss in 15 decisions since the All Star break.

Don Wert's fourth hit of the night, a leadoff triple in the bottom of the ninth, set up the Tiger victory. When Washington's Ron Kline uncorked a wild pitch, Wert trotted home with the winning run. Don Lock had a three-run homer for the Senators.

Bucher Paves Way, Lisbon Opens With 16-8 Victory

LISBON — Bud Bucher launched his final year of coaching successfully Friday night when Lisbon fans were treated to a 16-8 victory over Carrollton.

The coach's son, in this case quarterback Tim Bucher, had his hand in both touchdowns. Young Bucher and end Paul McGaffie hooked up on a 43-yard pass play in the second quarter then Bucher ran 12 yards for Lisbon's second TD in the third period.

Lisbon held a 16-0 lead going into the fourth quarter before Carrollton scored on a 10-yard pass play from Dick Tinley to Mike Karns.

Roger Lowry scored both conversions, one on a run and the other on a pass from Bucher.

LISBON 0 8 8 0-16

Phils Nip Giants, Keep Lead At 6

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

A doctor once told Dennis Bennett he never would pitch again, but he was wrong.

The Philadelphia Phillies expected Bennett to be a leading member of their drive for the National League pennant this season, but they, too, were wrong.

At least they were wrong until now.

Bennett, a 24-year-old left-hander, halted San Francisco on six hits Friday night as the Phils nipped the Giants 1-0 and maintained their six-game lead in the NL race.

The victory was the second straight for Bennett after a seven-game losing streak and indicated he may be ready to help keep the Phils far out front the rest of the way.

Even more indicative, though, may be his mastery of Willie Mays in the shutout, his second of the year and first since May 15. Bennett got Mays on called third strikes three times with Giants in scoring position.

As mediocre as his 11-12 record might be, it proves a lot more about Bennett than the figures show. After all, he wasn't supposed to be able to pitch again after an automobile accident shattered his left leg about 18 months ago.

"The doctor was talking to me, telling me my leg was all broken up, and that I would never pitch again," Bennett said, recalling his agony in a Puerto Rican hospital. "The one good thing was that the pain from my leg was so bad I didn't have time to think about what the doctor said."

"They had to wait five weeks for the swelling in the leg to go down before the doctor could put a screw in."

The screw now holds Bennett's leg together. The Phils are hoping he can hold his pitching together from here in.

Bennett's performance was only one of many masterpieces NL pitchers recorded Friday night.

Denny Lemaster pitched a one-hitter, outdueling Jim Maloney who had a two-hitter, in Milwaukee's 1-0 triumph over Cincinnati. Bob Gibson allowed Chicago only two hits as St. Louis won 5-0 while Vernon Law held Houston to the same number of hits in Pittsburgh's 3-0 victory. New York defeated Los Angeles 4-2 in the other game.

The Phillies scored their run in the fifth inning when Tony Taylor reached first on a fielder's choice and raced home as Ruben Amaro doubled to left-center field but was out trying to stretch the hit into a triple.

Neither Lemaster, 14-11, nor Maloney, 13-10, allowed a hit through five innings. Then Leo Cardenas led off the Reds' sixth with a line single to left. Maloney carried his no-hit bid to the seventh inning when Joe Torre singled to left with one out.

The other hit off Maloney — Gene Oliver's double — came in the eighth. The Braves eventually loaded the bases on walks to Gary Kolb and Lemaster, and Oliver dashed home as Felipe Alou flied out.

Gibson, 15-10, gave up a lead-off single to Chicago's Jimmy Stewart in the first inning, then didn't allow another hit until Ellis Burton started the seventh with a single. Ken Boyer's two-run homer, his 22nd, in the first, got the Cardinals off to a fast start.

Eddie Kasko's double in the third inning and a single by Nellie Fox in the sixth were the only Colt hits off Law, who increased his record to 11-12. Law doubled home Bill Mazaroski, who had singled, and scored on a double by Dick Schofield in the second inning

2 Continue To Oppose Yanks Sale

CHICAGO (AP)—A tenacious pair of Midwestern baseball club owners continued their minority opposition Friday to the sale of the New York Yankees to the Columbia Broadcasting System.

Denials and counter-denials blustered between Boston and Chicago as the controversial transaction bubbled into a fast boil.

Owner Arthur C. Allyn Jr. of the Chicago White Sox charged President Joe Cronin of the American League with suppressing a legal opinion.

A spokesman for Cronin denied Allyn's allegation and said the disputed opinion had been shared with American League club owners.

Charles O. Finley, owner of the Kansas City Athletics, asked the attorney general's office to investigate possible antitrust violations in the $11.2 million sale for 80 per cent of the Yankees.

To complicate matters further, Allyn criticized Finley for asking for government intervention.

The club owners formally approved the sale Wednesday in a meeting in Boston. Previously, the club owners had approved the transaction by telephone and telegram, but the league meeting was called after protests by Finley and Allyn.

Glue Sniffing Crops Up Again In Akron

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Glue sniffing has cropped up again, juvenile department detectives reported, with at least 17 East Akron juveniles involved in the latest incident. Detectives said a gang of girls and boys from 12 to 19 years old who sniffed airplane glue fumes in plastic bags was uncovered Friday.

Two boys were placed in the Summit County juvenile detention home and two other teenagers were referred to juvenile authorities. Detectives said the number involved may go as high as 30, but only 17 names were ascertained. There is no law against sniffing glue, detectives said.

School Health Topic Of Talk For Industry PTA Session

"School Health Problems and Your Child" was the topic presented by the school nurse, Mrs. Patricia Moreth, at the first meeting of the season for the Ray Snyder Parent-Teacher Association Thursday night in the school in Industry.

Mrs. Moreth stressed the importance of keeping children home for the proper length of time following an illness to prevent the spread of childhood diseases. She distributed pamphlets on the subject.

Donald Bradshaw, elementary principal, introduced teachers and spoke briefly. Frank Meredith, supervising principal, attended.

Mrs. Woodrow Pflugh, president, conducted business and announced the following committee chairmen:

Program, Mrs. Russell Foster and Mrs. John Garland; magazine, Mrs. Herb Nida; membership, Mrs. George Blakemore and Mrs. John Nuzzo; publicity, Mrs. Philip Graham; historian, Mrs. Keith Hammond;

Smith and Mrs. Wayne McGaffick; hospitality, Mrs. John Smyda, and parliamentarian, Mrs. John Smyda.

Plans for a bazaar Oct. 17 were announced by Mrs. Smith, who urged all parents to attend with their children as this will be the only project for the year if it is successful. Proceeds will be used for the purchase of books amounting to $350 for the new school library. She introduced chairmen of the various booths for the event.

Mrs. Nida reported on magazine sales and announced that subscriptions to the PTA magazine still are open.

A meeting of the homeroom mothers will be held Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in Mrs. Smyda's home.

Mrs. George Kelly gave the executive report.

Refreshments were served 50 by members of the Executive Board with Mrs. Smyda in charge. Fifth grade mothers will serve at the next meeting.

Ohio Democratic Platform Drafters To Write Pledges

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's Democratic platform drafters settled down to writing the party's 1964 pledges today after winding up two days hearings.

Many of those appearing before the 24-member committee urged tax law changes but there was a wide difference of opinion on what to change and how to do it.

The committee, shaping the platform for next week's state Democratic convention here, also was told by a Negro civil rights leader not be afraid of a "so-called white backlash."

That plea came from Nathaniel C. Lee, Ohio president of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Lee told the committee: "It is our considered opinion that this party should establish immediate confrontation with the so-called 'white backlash.' This confrontation would serve to dispel any fears engendered by politicians who hope to use such fears to gain votes."

The tax changes were urged for the benefit of education, farming and business.

Thomas G. O'Keefe, executive secretary of the Ohio Education Association (OEA), plugged for a retail sales tax boost from 3 to 4 per cent to add $116 million annually for public schools.

O'Keefe was criticized Thursday for missing his scheduled appearance before the platform group.

Chairman James W. Shocknessy told O'Keefe "I'm not sure the only way to get the money is by increasing the sales tax."

Dean Simral, associate director of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, called for a "state personal income tax."

Executive Director Thomas R. Johnson of the Ohio Manufacturers' Association urged the committee to guarantee safeguards against "unwarranted tax burdens" on business.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

IN MEMORIAM

"Markie" Little. In loving memory 1906-1958. No stain was on his little heart. Sin had not entered there. And innocent smile sweetly on that pale brow so fair. He was too pure for this cold earth. Too beautiful to stay. And so God's holy angel bore Darling little Markie away. His smiling face and baby ways. A pleasure to recall. He was such a darling little boy. And died beloved by all.

In loving memory of our dear husband and father, Chris Lane who passed away 2 years ago today Sept. 12, 1962. We have within our lonely hearts, a picture of your face and though the years may come and go, they never can erase. Those who have a father, treasure him with care. You never know his value till you see his empty chair. You never have but the father, patient, kind and true. No other friend all this world will be as kind to you. For all his loving kindness he wanted nothing in return. If all the world deserted you, to father you could return. Sadly missed by his wife Mildred and Children.

CARDS OF THANKS

We little think as we go from day to day, how quickly sorrow can strike at the heart, but when it did, the instant sympathy and help of friends deeply comforting in the sad loss of our beloved husband and father, Lloyd B. Shaw. We are grateful to each and all who have given and offered their services to us. — Mrs. Betty Shaw and family.

OFF THE RECORD

How Can I?
By ANNE ASHLEY

Q--How can I remove rust spots from ceramic tile floors?
A--Dissolve one part of sodium citrate with six parts of commercial glycerin. Add water to thin the mixture, then mix with sufficient whiting to form a paste. Spread this over the rust spots in a thick coating, scrub, and then rinse off.

Q--How can I join lace so that it will not be noticeable?
A--Try to patch the design over on the same design, carefully whipping one on the other. If carefully done, the place where the lace is joined will hardly be noticeable. Do not make a French seam when joining lace.

Q--How can I prepare a good "homemade" starch in an emergency?
A--The water from boiled rice or potatoes makes a very nice starch. To the water which remains after you have cooked a half-cup of rice in two quarts of boiling water, add enough additional boiling water (by pouring it over the rice in a strainer) to make one quart.

Q--How can I insure uniform moisture in handkerchiefs before ironing them?
A--Try wetting every third hanky thoroughly, laying each wet one between two dry ones. Then roll up the whole pile and leave overnight. You'll find them all properly moist for ironing in the morning.

Q--How can I clean shoe brushes?
A--Soak them in warm, sudsy water to which a few drops of turpentine or mineral spirits have been added.

Q--How should the brushes that have been used for applying shellac be cleaned?
A--In denatured alcohol, then washed in hot soapsuds.

Junior Editors Quiz on CATS

QUESTION: Are cats lovable? If so, why?

ANSWER: To most persons, they are. A cat is a most unusual animal. Unlike dogs, whose ancestors hunted in packs, each ancestral cat did his hunting in the forest by himself. Naturally, the cat family learned independence and self reliance. But unlike most wild animals, this independence didn't destroy the cat's appreciation of domestic life with human beings. Perhaps this was because cats have such an appreciation of coziness and comfort. This is one of the reasons we like them -- a cat's delight in home life makes home more delightful. Then too, cats are so clean, and, for animals, are exceptionally playful. Play with a cat and you will forget your problems and troubles. But don't get too free with him, he has a certain dignity and wants you to abide by the rules.

Perhaps the most lovable thing about cats is that they let us human beings clearly understand that they are fond of us -- getting this message across in their own special language of purring and rubbing against our legs. Those who study animals say cats have exceptionally keen memories. If you have been kind to a cat, he remembers it, and in return gives you the gift of his own affection and friendship.

FOR YOU TO DO: Brush your cat carefully and thoroughly and see if he doesn't find a way to thank you for your care.

Christmas Weeks Away—But Post Office Is Preparing

Christmas may be weeks away but the Post Office is working toward the Dec. 25 date already.

Longer Post Office window hours, expanded delivery services and large scale extension of the ZIP-coded parcel post speedup are planned for Christmas, Postmaster General John A. Gronouski has advised Postmaster Samuel W. Brown.

Gronouski outlined three major new steps he has taken "for the best Christmas mail Service the Postal Service has ever had."

1. Expanded Post Office window hours in December as deemed necessary by the local postmaster.

2. A six-day week Dec. 7-31 for parcel post deliveries, instead of a five-day week.

3. Completion by the first of November of Phase III of ZIP code parcel handling at about 130 more "sectional centers" post offices (strategically-located mail massing points), providing faster delivery up to 24 hours or more for parcels with ZIP Code.

In Phase I and II, approximately 75 offices with receipts of $5 million annually and above activated faster ZIP Code sorting and dispatch Sept. 1. The 130 in Phase III includes offices with receipts of $1 to $5 million.

In addition, many other sectional centers offices with smaller receipts will have the program in operation by early December, in time to help speed delivery of Christmas gifts mailed with the ZIP code.

The postmaster general told Postmaster Brown the Christmas plans are part of a nationwide program to bring postmasters into more responsible positions on postal management as "real partners in providing better mail service at all levels."

The postmaster commented that we could do a much more efficient job if we had our promised new facility as so many of our neighbors do. While in New York at the recent postmasters convention, Brown saw the new Christmas stamps at their unveiling at the Waldorf - Astoria Hotel by the Post Office Department. "I think the public will like the idea of four different stamps of Christmas nature that are the makeup of each sheet of 100 stamps," he said.

Power Firm Set To Spend Two Billion

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. — Electric companies serving the Appalachian region will invest more than 2 billion in the future of the region through 1970 and in doing so create a new market for 28 million tons of Appalachia coal, it was revealed here Friday by J. Lee Rice, Jr., president of the Allegheny Power System.

Addressing an audience that had gathered to participate in ground - breaking for a new power plant being built near here, Rice said that Allegheny Power System alone will spend nearly 350 million on new construction in the coal fields of West Virginia and western Pennsylvania and in adjoining Maryland.

"There can be no question," that Allegheny Power System and its neighboring investor - owned electric utilities care about the future of Appalachia and its people", the New York utility executive said. "And we care enough to invest our dollars to make that future a bright and prosperous one."

The occasion was the breaking of ground for Fort Martin Power Station, to be built on the Monongahela River just south of the Pennsylvania - West Virginia line.

The first generating unit of a two - unit station will be built by the Monongahela Power Company and the Potomac Edison company, both operating companies of the Allegheny Power System. The unit under construction will have a generating capability expected to be in excess of 540,000 kilowatts and will cost $53.5 million to build.

Canada has 60 covered bridges.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE CITIZENS OF EAST LIVERPOOL

Dear Friends:

This letter is a personal plea to you to vote FOR the School Bond Levy on Tuesday, September 15.

Your interest and support are vitally needed not only for the passage of the levy but for the future education of the youth in the East Liverpool School District. We are asking the citizens of our entire school district, which includes those living in the city and in the townships, to make a special effort to get to the polls and vote.

The passage of the bond levy will give our community modern facilities for our entire school population—something we have not experienced in several decades. A new high school and three new elementary schools will not only enhance the school district, but will give up the opportunity to present an educational program to your children that more adequately meets their needs.

Won't you join me in casting a vote FOR the School Bond Levy?

YOUR SUPPORT OF THIS LEVY IS SOLICITED IN ORDER THAT WE MAY PROVIDE A QUALITY EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM FOR OUR STUDENTS.

REMEMBER, FRIENDS. THE CHILDREN IN THIS COMMUNITY ARE THE COMMUNITIES MOST VALUABLE POSSESSION. PROTECT THEM!

Sincerely,

Paul H. Blair

Superintendent of Schools
